Crying For Eternity

Paradise Lost

Lying here alone and cold
And I'm waiting for the dawn
Laughter at my every move
As if crippled by my thoughts
And I'm burning cold, burning coldYou prevail in the end
(Unlike your god's obscenity)
Hating the disgrace
(Of a child's insanity)
I'm taken all the more
And I'll take all that I see
You'll do it all for me (is this the end - it cannot be)All the more, you feed off my rejection
All the more, I tear your soul in twoLonely are my tears of pain
And I'm punished by their cause
I'll rest on my burning throne
A release I move towards is eternal sleepAnd I'm burning cold
And it keeps me locked away
And it keeps me locked away
And it keeps me locked away
AwayAll the more, I battle through the heartache[
All the more, I'd lay myself to rest
