

06/08: Lost Inside Your Heart

Pensive

Slowly you drift, through endless night your dreaming beneath onic skies wave goodbye to, everything.
March to the sea, dance on the waves that constantly push you away.
because you can be, anything.
Falling in the dark
lost inside your heart.
when will you open your eyes.
and start it all over again.

tell me you see ghostly blue light.
Shadows that whisper inside.
But you cant believe, what you see.
Echoing streets, cities of glass.
reminders of all that will last
but these memories call your name.
Falling in the dark, lost inside your heart.
When will you, open your eyes, and start it all over again.
when will you, leave this behind and never return here again.
(music)
when will you open your eyes and start it all over again
when will you leave this behind and never return here again.
