Let Them Know

The Briggs

Prepare yourself for some new ideas
Or a resurgence of old standards
Open your eyes and take a look aroundRevolution can be more than a dream
In a flash of brilliant light
Millions upon millions can be seenThe pressure's building up
To the point of no return
When the skies fall and the seas start to burnZimmerman was in control
Zimmerman let them know
There's trouble on, trouble on the horizon
The sound of revolution is seldom heardNot attempted or maybe just ignored
Open your ears and listen to the warning
The pressure's building up
To the point of no return
When the skies fall and the seas start to burnIt's the end of the Earth
No time to play it safe
Sink or swim, rise up or fall
It's time to make a changeIt's the end of the Earth
No time to play it safe
Sink or swim, rise up or fall
Something's got to changeBreaking down all the walls
Till every last one of them falls
It will begin when all else endsPrepare yourself for some new ideas
Or a resurgence of old standards
Open your eyes and take a look around
Revolution can be more than a dream
In a flash of brilliant light
Millions upon millions can be seenIt's the end of the Earth
No time to play it safe
It's the end of the Earth
No time to play it safe
Sink or swim, rise up or fall
Something's got to changeBreaking down all the walls
Till every last one of them falls It will begin when all else ends
