Burn And Shine

The Elms

Yeah, we're gonna burn, burn, burn
And we're gonna shine, shine, shineEven if it wears us out or takes us out past
These county lines, we're sick of moving
Oh, so slow and being told where to go
Making up our minds to burn and shineOne soul in a year, ain't all that bad
When it's the only chance you ever had
Don't you ever wish for something true?
Something to pour your heart and soul into?Take all your feelings and put 'em aside
And get what matters on your mindAll you love will surely come and go
And life is all your moments in a row
No more crying for the days gone by
And no one ever loses if they try
