Soul Stalker

Calibretto 13

Darkness bathes the city face.
It's something common to the human race.
Go about your normal lives,
Do whatever and pay no mind.
Just remember to look behind you.
Something sinister's about to unfold.
It happens every night, yet no one is told.
A lone stranger walks the streets below.
What happens next you don't wanna know.
They are everywhere.
I tried to warn you, but you don't care.
Soul Stalker is about to strike.
You don't believe me.
Why, exactly, I don't know.
All I want to do is help save your soul.
The formal warning is out,
And the rest is up to you
You can choose to make a difference
Or do what you always do.
But beware of the rulers of darkness,
For there is no mercy in them.
They'll rape your soul and mind
And try to take you down with them.
Here we come.
We're here to save you
From the evil clutches of the Dragon's fleet.
We are the hunters,
Ordained by the King of kings.
Our mission: spread the Word
And rid the world of evil things.
You go about your normal lives.
You do whatnot and you pay no mind.
It's a risk you would not take
If you knew the cost at stake.
It's a vicious cycle that never ends,
So we must stop it before it begins
