Killing Him

Amy LaVere

He didnt come home till the light of the day
He wasnt with her he would say
They fought through the morning and all of the day
Shed have to kill him to get him to stayKilling him didnt make the love go away
Killing him didnt make the love go away
Killing him didnt make the love go away
Killing him didnt make the love go awayShe gave him everything that she had Changed anything he said was badLove weighed on her heart like marble stone
Flash of the knife, he was gone
Said he would give her the sun and the moon
Now all she has is this eight-by-eight roomKilling him didnt make the love go away
Killing him didnt make the love go away
Killing him didnt make the love go away
Killing him didnt make the love go awayShe thought of him every night and all of the day
Missing the baby she did away
Blowing kisses to the concrete sky
Hoping theyd reach him in heaven highLove weighed on her heart like marble stone
Flash of the knife, he was gone
Said he would give her the sun and the moon
Now all she has is this eight-by-eight room

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/