

The Moon Over Georgia

Shenandoah

He owns a big estate just south of Savannah
And a high rise hotel in downtown Atlanta
Add half the state of Georgia to his name
She'd be set for life in his colonial manner
He laid the world at her feet on a silver platter

But all I had to offer her, was the moon
And she took the moon over Georgia
She'd rather have a million stars in the sky than a gold mine

She took the moon over Georgia
When it came down to his world or mine

She took the moon over Georgia
A little country house in need of expansion
It's far cry from his south Georgia mansion

But we've got our own paradise
Shadows dancin' 'til down with a full moon shinin'
And those occasional clouds all have a silver lining

There really must be something about, that old yellow light
She took the moon over Georgia
She'd rather have a million stars in the sky than a gold mine
Yeah she took the moon over Georgia
When it came down to his world or mine
She took the moon over Georgia
She took the moon over Georgia
