Not Today, Not Tomorrow

Ariel Kill Him

Tonight well move the world if you want to
My voice sounds like a thousand echoes
Spinning on the words you left with me
Thank you for the beauty you wear (and put inside me) so endlessly
And you where are you gonna be when all the faces hits the ground
And I, I will not be here to see the illusions rewind the time
I love the way you laugh in melodies as if we were wings on the light air
And everything is so gorgeous
But I cant stay here not today, not tomorrow.
