

The Redeemer

Sanctus Real

Sometimes I just wanna start over
'Cause everything looks like a wreck
And I need the courage to carry on
'Cause I can't see what's ahead And there are places I've wished I could be Battles I've wanted to win
Dreams that have slipped through my hands
I may never get back again But I'm still a dreamer, a believer
Oh, I lost my faith in so many things
But I still believe in You
'Cause You can make anything new Sometimes I just wish we could say
All the things that are easy to hear
Ignore the injustice we see
And explain every unanswered prayer But I'd rather speak honestly
And wear a tattered heart on my sleeve
'Cause in the middle of my broken dreams
Redemption is here And I'm still a dreamer, a believer
Oh, I lost my faith in so many things
But I still believe in You
'Cause You are the answer, the Redeemer Oh, I've given up on too many things
But I'm not giving up on You
'Cause You can make anything new I don't have every answer in life
But I'm trusting You one day at a time
'Cause You can make a weak heart stay alive
Forever And this is where heaven and earth collide
I lift my hands, I give my life
This is how my weary heart stays alive Oh, I'm still a dreamer, still a believer
And You are the answer, the Redeemer
'Cause You can make anything new
Yeah, You can make anything new

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>