

Marlboro Lights

Natalia Kills

Say you dont love me
Say you dont want me anymore
Tell me its over
Its over
Ill open my bottle
But no I aint opening this door
Bathwater gets colder
So just say its overCause my pockets broke
My soul is stoned
I ruined you again
And a lonely bridge or rooftop ledge
Could just fix everythingBut when Im alone on the longest nights
I think of you and your Marlboro lights
And I, I get a bit better
And I lay here on the bedroom floor
Where your feet walked out
And your daggers fall
And I, I get a little bit betterSay youll forget me
Say youll erase me from your mind
Right from the day of our doomed beauty
I saw my future in your eyes
Save the words youve rehearsed
We both know I wont be fine
You know that fate dont take my bribes
And I only want whats never mineSo you break the door
You break my heart
You ruin me again
And the passing trucks and loaded guns
Never could fix anythingBut when Im alone on the longest nights
I think of you and your Marlboro lights
And I, I get a bit better
And all I hear on the bedroom floor
Is where your feet walked out
And your daggers fall
And I, I get a little bit betterWhen love is made so renegade
You know youre going down in flames
And if our hearts must share a grave
At least can we be friends?
You shoot your words

They knock me down
Like rubber bullets raining out
They bounce right off and I get up againBut if no one understands me
At least you could pretend
I never knew when love was true
But I know its the endBut Ill be here 'til chaos calls
And God aint listening anymore
Cuz I, I know that we could be better
And Ill stay here to defy our fears
Even though I know itll end in tears
Cuz I, I know that we could be better
When Im alone on the longest nights
I think of you and your Marlboro lights
And I, I couldnt be better
