Joan Armatrading

Everything I try to give you
Everything I try to do
Theres no pleasing youYou want the stars in the morning
And the sun dead of night
You place immovable objects
In my plain sightWell, I'm giving you your freedom
Though I never owned you
Nor wanted to
Hey, hey, hey heyYou're free now enjoy your freedom
Don't call me up for cheap advice
You're free, make your own decisions
You live your life and let me live mineNever held out on affection
Gave you most material things
There's no pleasing youYou called me your lover
Did I treat you that bad
You really want me to suffer
But I can't take so muchWell, I'm giving you your freedom
Though I never owned you
Nor wanted to
Hey, hey, hey, heyYou're free now enjoy your freedom
Don't call me up for free advice
You're free, make your own decisions
You live your life and let me live mine please
