

Regurgitated Disinformation

Job for a Cowboy

Falsehood projects from a day to day instrumental broadcast
That flows through the net of mass media
The lungs swell as the puppets speak to the public
As their words grow limbs to crawl and give birth to ignorance Reports endlessly drift and cloak reality
Leaving mass audiences to believe into layers of fiction
The hellish elite pull the vulnerable strings of journalism
With the mastery of everyday blood money and ultimatums The boundless flavor of dominance on the starved tongue
Gives these kings a mental state of ambitious arousal
For corruption steadily trickles from their fingertips
And showers into the pool of forged mental assurance at their feet
The sleeping masses live on their so called tranquil lifestyle, lifestyle They sleep and wake utterly blindfolded in a regurgitated fashion
Money will always equal dominance above law and above government Disinformation will constantly leave a nation, a nation
As a forever sleeping giant due to the ongoing voice of propaganda Falsehood projects from a day to day
