Betrayer

Divinitus Praecantrix

This is a song in which I use to describe
What I feel about people like you
No sense for humanity, no idea about life
This premise has been provedYou used my trust
To satisfy your brainless lust
Your word isn't worth
More than puke in the dustBetrayer
BetrayerMisleader
You twisted things to satisfy
Deceiver
The greedy lust you can't deny, you can't denyBetrayer
BetrayerHow could I be so naive to believe
All the lies you so easily told
I think I've learned my lesson too late
The story took time to unfoldNow I see your true face
Behind your mask, a cheat, a fake
Your word isn't worth
More than puke in the dustBetrayer
BetrayerIgnorant, twisted mind
Maybe it would help to think
Before you speak from time to timePretend to be a friend of mine
But you would sell your mother
If you could for less than a dimeIntelligence lost, brain [Incomprehensible]
So you will loose
Fall to your kneesGuys like you I cannot stand
Maybe I must speak another language
Before you understandMisleader
You twisted things to satisfy
Deceiver
The greedy lust you can't deny, you can't denyBetrayer
Betrayer
