

Saints & Sinners

Flogging Molly

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Saints and sinners are but we
Twisted wrecks of symmetryLike broken arrows split
Against this mindless rift we feed
Saints and sinners are
And each others company we seekThough we took our separate paths
Back to the womb where we collapsedOn buildings full of living bricks
Cementing walls a dangerous fix
Oh, saints and sinners are
Begrudgers who will never mixContemplating right from wrong
In retrospect we don't get onSo Armageddon here we come
Who are the chosen ones?
Consequences who you've been
For in damnation Satan grinsWe're saints and we're sinners
Nothing more than lost beginners
Both now facing endless falls
It's hell or heaven cry's the pulpits' scorn
The pulpits' scornEvery saint now has a past
So may the sinners' future last
Every ghost still has a haunt
Where he or she feels they belongAll possessing tortured souls
Confessing all that's yet to be
Saints and sinners are
Lunatics, a vicious breedSo Armageddon, here we come
Who are the chosen ones?
Consequences who you've been
For in damnation Satan grinsWe're saints and we're sinners
Nothing more than lost beginners
Both now facing endless falls
It's hell or heaven criesOh, we're saints and we're sinners
Nothing more than lost beginners
So wise men crank the guillotine
Where heads will roll for all to see
