Disappear

My Brightest Diamond

Walk in to a crowded room,
And no one knows just what your thinking.
Just hope they never figure out, find out,
The reason why your sinking down, down, down into the place,
You always run to,
Dont even know why you are here.
Disappear,
Another tragedy's bound to be near.Imagine looking up from inside your grave,
Its burning in your chest you flex back to a better place.
Before you and all the things you call them.
Never bothered, even listened,
To you and all the things you can not hear.
The silent screams of another year,
Of another year.Disappear,
Dont even know why you are here
Disappear, another tragedy's bound to be nearCause I know,
You know,
I feel the same.I know,
You know,
I feel the same.Disappear, dont even know why you are here.
Disappear, another tragedy's bound to be near.Disappear, dont even know why you are here.
Disappear, another tragedy's bound, bound, boundDisappear, dont even know why you are here.
Disappear, another tragedy's bound to be near.
