Blue Shoebox

drumfish

We were driving home from DC In a blue shoebox on wheels
And wed had quite a bit to drink
And the five of us who were crammed in the car
Started talking to each other
About life and girls and everythingAnd why the one youve always wanted is the one youll never have
And why the one who clings to tight
Has you slipping away like soap in the tub
And how there arent any answers
Cuz I cant think of everythingSometimes I wonder where are we headed
And if we are going to get there
And we have to wonder if we are destined
To make it in life or only to wish we hadThat night we didnt find any answers in our blue shoebox on wheels
But my best friend got a ticket
For going to fast on the road at midnight
And we all made fun of the cop
And laughed when he walked awaySometimes I wonder where are we headed
And if we are going to get there
And we have to wonder if we are destined
To make it in life or only to wish we hadLife and girls and everything
But I cant think of everything
So we laughed when he walked away
