

Heartache for Everyone

Indigo Girls

You spent five years saying you come my way
Well that's a little more waiting than a heart can take
Yeah but now that I know it's just a fantasy
I feel a hard time coming around for me I said, "Oh, oh, oh there's a heartache for everyone"
Oh, oh there's a heartache for everyone
I spent two years saying give me a chance
Yeah, clean it all up and I'll take your hand
But not forever, it was understood
Yeah but just for a while, it would do us some good I said, "Oh, oh, oh there's a heartache for everyone"
(I'm waiting to restore my love)
Oh, oh there's a heartache for everyone
(I'm waiting to restore my faith)
I'll wait for you until I know there's a heartache for everyone Hey valentine, I'm just stumbling around
Who knew that Paris was such a lonely town?
I'll meet you at the bridge where we wanted to kiss
Or take the high road and be done with this Hey valentine, I'm just stumbling around
Who knew that Paris was such a lonely town?
I'll meet you at the bridge where we wanted to kiss
Or let's take the high road and be done with this I'll give you six more weeks baby just in case
You can change your mind, you won't be replaced
Are we looking at a lifetime of regret
Or just the one little moment that we'll never forget I said, "Oh, oh, oh there's a heartache for everyone"
(I'm waiting to restore my love)
Oh, oh there's a heartache for everyone
(I'm waiting to restore my faith)
I'll wait for you until I know there's a heartache for everyone
I'll wait for you until I know there's a heartache for everyone

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>