

One Rainy Day

Godsmack

Oh man, I'm tired and lonely
Again, why must it be?
A man is drowned and slowly
And he can't keep above, gone way to deep, oh, yeah Open skies are falling, tears are coming down
Like a drop of rain falls to the ocean
And comes back around, one rainy day Oh, so many times, I should have crawled
When I went running by
And since then I've been left feeling traumatized Raped and drained of innocence
A gift we've lost over time
And still I gazed through this one rainy day
Alone with no one by my side Open skies are falling, tears are coming down
Like a drop of rain falls to the ocean
And comes back around I swear, I've givin', I've given you all I can Never will you ever make me feel this way again, no
On this, one rainy day Yeah, open skies are falling, tears are coming down
Like a drop of rain falls to the ocean
And comes back around One rainy day
One rainy day, oh, one rainy day
It's been just one rainy day
