Stronger

Melinda Schneider

This is my stop its time to get off
Though Im not too sure where Im going
Ive spent the best part of my life so far in a love that just wasnt growing
But 10 years can change the world, totally make a girl different to when she was younger
And spending these years beside you made me strongerYou held my hand when I lost my dad
We cried for what seemed like forever
Now were crying again shaking our heads as we share one more ending together
We gave it our best and its hard to accept that this love couldnt last any longer
But spending these years beside you made me strongerIt so hard to let you go
Its so sad how we both knowThis is my stop its time to get off
Though Im not too sure where Im going
But 10 years can change the world, totally make a girl different to when she was younger
And spending these years beside you made me stronger
Spending these years beside you
Spending these years beside you makes me stronger
