Material Christ

Poison the Well

Your so called meager life
Plagued with riches
Born by the strong beliefs
Of your so many victimsThe task that they entrusted
Within your powers
And yet they remain unchanged

Your God is non existentYou speak of your God

Does He condemn your life?

You're nothing but a hypocrite

Actions speak over wordsThe many sins you've lived

The many lies you've told

Your defaming existence

Hidden by a power tieWhere's your God?

Who do you answer to?

How do you live with yourself? Where's your conscience?

Where's your conscience?

Do you think? This is just such an excess of assets

While they hope to eat

Your golden spoon

Is their hand to mouthAfter your final days

Where will you go?

Your sins direct you

Not your words Your God is nothing

Your God is non existent

Your God is nothing

Your God is non existent

He's nothing, nothing Your God, your God, your God

Your God, your God, your God

Your God, your God, your God

Your God, your God your God is nothing
