Love & Emotion

Mink DeVille

We walk the street and I hold your hand
And as we stroll along I can understand
How a love can live in this desolate land.Broken windows and broken hearts
And you are cheated before you start.
Was there ever a chance, no there was never a chance.But then your love, love and emotion
Oh your love, love and emotion,
Oh how your love, love and emotion
Oh your love sets me free.So everyday at 5 o'clock
I run down your street, to your block
And up five flights of stairs, up five flights of stairs.And in your laughter there's mission bells,
Coloured lanterns and caroussels
And in this hallway is home, no I'm not so alone.Because your love, love and emotion
Oh your love, ove and emotion,
Oh how your love, love and emotion
Oh your love sets me free.Oh how your love, love and emotion
Oh your love, love and emotion,
Oh how your love, love and emotion
Oh your love sets me free.Oh how your love, love and emotion
Oh how your love, love and emotion.
