Horizons

An Horse

On a boat in the Gulf of Mexico
I know, I know it doesn't snow
I know, I know where to go
In the book by my bed
That holds all the maps of places we've travel and where lives intersect
I know, I know where to go
I know, I know it doesn't snowA rooftop crow's nest in a sea swell
Oh, yes, I'm doing so well
A rooftop crow's nest in a sea swell
Oh, yes, I can see so well
And you'll know where to be seen
And you'll know where to be seenSometimes you lay up like a map in front of me
Well, you know I have to go
But you know I'll come home
And when I climb on my ship
I will call around
I believe in horizons now
I believe in horizons nowA rooftop crow's nest in a sea swell
Oh, yes, I'm doing so well
A rooftop crow's nest in a sea swell
Oh, yes, I can see so well
And you'll know where to be seen
And you'll know where to be seen
And you'll know where to be seen
And you'll know where to be seenI believe in horizons now
I believe in horizons now
I believe in horizons now
I believe in horizons now
I believe in horizons now
I believe in horizons now
I believe in horizons now
I believe in horizons nowA rooftop crow's nest in a sea swell
Oh, yes, I'm doing so well
A rooftop crow's nest in a sea swell
Oh, yes, I can see so well
I can see you
On horizons true
And I can see through
All horizons true
