

Monolithic Ignorance

Revocation

A doomsday declaration the signs we cannot ignore
The oceans start to boil the dead wash up on our shores
Rivers flow with toxins sickening all in their wake
Swallowing the poison, savour its virulent tasteFoolishly we followed our rulers into the abyss
Critical mass no turning back we've fallen over the precipiceMonolithic ignorance
    Devoid of intelligence
    Devolved comprehension
Reversed progressionExtinction rates growing mankind in a pestilent blight
    Cancerous, the disease spreads devouring all life
The earth a barren wasteland, sulphurous smoke blacks out the skies
    A dead planet now expires before our dying eyes
    Those who sought to rule this realm have only meddled with it
    The errors of their foolish schemes have brought about our ruin
