Last Ever Lone Gunman

Snow Patrol

This heartbreak's never ending It's like it never happened A fall from grace is close Why not speed it up?I've never been so angry To find out that I failed It didn't even work I have to make amendsI shot him from the window The world just held the breath I made my escape As if no one could seeI took off in my pick-up Kids screaming in the back seat They heard the shots too And screamed 'cause that's their wayI do alright in my own way I do alright in my own way I do alright in my own way I do alright in my own wayWe've all got bigger plans But when it comes down to it Mine might save the world At least for one more dayDon't judge me from your sofas On TV things don't ever Come across so true They're made up in your mindsI do alright in my own way I do alright in my own way I do alright in my own way
