

She Takes Me There

Promised Land Sound

Well I wonder where she is tonight
If she's cold
With a feeling our love isn't right
Or getting old
Is she laughing?
Is she crying out to the moon? While I wait to see our flowers wilt before they bloom
But I feel I'm bound to lose my mind and the clock starts to unwind and no one knows what's real Well I wonder where she lays tonight If she's home
Is she staring up into his eyes from the floor
Is she laughing?
Is she crying out to the moon?
While I wait to see our flowers wilt before they bloom Well it seems she'll never let me in Like emotion is a sin But I'd do anything to do have her Where could she be? (She's over me)
Where could she be? (It's over me)
Where she could be? (She's over me)
Where could she be? (It's over me)
Where she could be?
