

When I Let You Into My Closet

Nerissa & Katryna Nields

When I let you into my closet
Right behind the leopard skin coat
Will you still revere and adore me?
Will you just become more remote? Will you see the actual me
And will you walk away?
Will you see what I've been hiding
And tell me it's okay? Show me a sign, give me a key
Tell me that you love me for me
I want to be who I really am
Maybe that'll fit into your plans
Maybe that'll fit into your plans When I give you my combination
Will you keep it all to yourself
Will you leave me poems and candy?
Will you tell it to somebody else? Will you make me into a fool
Or will you hold my hand?
When I tell you that I am lonely
Will you understand? Show me a sign, give me a key
Tell me that you love me for me
I want to be who I really am
Maybe that'll fit into your plans
Maybe that'll fit into your plans
