Love Is Now

Chester See

She whispers in your ear I love you
You don't want to hear but you do
You're forced to say it back
You don't want to lead her down that path
You'd rather turn away
Instead you turn to her and say
I love you too....She is holding onto hope
And you can feel it
But you lost that long ago
You can't retrive it
You can see it in her eyes
It's unrequited and deprived
Afraid of all the tears
That's your biggest fearLove is knowing when to stop
Love is moving on
Love is never turning back even
When you hear crying
Love is now
Now
Love is nowMaking steps to leave but slowly
You find your self decieved
By being lonely
It only takes a word
And there you are consoling her
Feels right to hold her close
And so your story goes...Love is knowing when to stop
Love is moving on
Love is never turning back even
When you hear crying
Love is now
Now
Love is nowNow is later than the moment when you should walked away
It's harder every minute
When your searching for the strength to say
The strength to sayLove is knowing when to stop
Love is moving on
Love is never turning back even
When you hear crying
Love is now

Now
Love is now
Now
Love is now
Now
Love is nowShe whispers in your ear I love you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/