She Wonders Why

Astrus

Been lied to, what else? Been cheated on, who else?
Got somebody but want someone else, love everyone but don't love yourself. Tell me why everybody plays you, want all of yous, not can I come throughs everybody just tryna get a piece, but then they get it and then just leave.
She sick and tired of all these games focus on you instead of these lames got hurt so much now she can't trust, tell you been on me just for lust. She wonders why she ain't good enough, wonders why it's always fake love, wonders why they all just just left but then forgets with that smoke in her chest like...
Look, see I fell in love fast fell out of it quicker used to be us now you ain't in the picture she wonders why I can't open up cause the last girl I had left and took my trust, the feel of her lips still stuck on my brain miss the way she used to throw up that thang now I'm stuck with bitched & bottles used to FaceTime then she turned to my model, like damn Maybe i need someone, maybe everyone just needs someone sick and tired not being someone Man I'm over here tryna find someone, like damn why the fuck I'm in my feelings everyday I'm running from this healing everyday im fuckin chasing these bitches everyday I'm fuckin chasing these riches.
