

I Fought Piranhas

The White Stripes

Well i hold the rope and i hold the sail and i kept my papers to keep from land in jail there was noone with me and i fought piranhas and i fought the cold i was all alone and there's noone around Well it's easter morning now so i unroll the cement and walk into the town and i was all alone and i fought the cold there was noone with me and i fought piranhas Well you know what it's like i don't got to tell you who puts up a fight walking out of hell now there's nobody with you when you fought piranhas and you fought the cold and you're all alone
