soul lover

Jack DeKeyzer

Like your student, I hang on every word you say
Like your disciple, I don't have to stay
Like your heartbeat there are things I've always known
Like your lover, I'm already part of your soul
No words can tell you what I feel
No looks can show you what I see
No one can teach me what is real
Nothing can take you away from me
Like your passion
I have waited for the key
To unlock the vision
That will set my soul free
No words can tell you what I feel
No looks can show you what I see
No one can teach me what is real
Nothing can take you away from me
No time can give me what I need
No way around what I've been through
No space can fill up the emptiness
In my soul when I want you
