

Are We Travellers in Time

Saxon

Two thousand years they stand behind us
Are we just travellers in time
We face the phantoms of our future
They face destruction of their kind These, these are the days
These, these are the times
Are we just travellers in time The ancient stones of time they call us
To hear their mystic prophecies
They've stood in silence they're immortal
Forgotten page of history These, these are the days
These, these are the times
Are we just travellers in time
Are we just travellers in time The crystal powers they will take you
Far across the sands of time
Searching ever for an answer
What's the future of mankind These, these are the days
These, these are the times
Are we just travellers in time
Are we just travellers in time Are we just travellers in time
Are we just travellers in time
In time, time, time, time, time
