Are We Travellers in Time

Saxon

Two thousand years they stand behind us Are we just travellers in time We face the phantoms of our future They face destruction of their kindThese, these are the days These, these are the times Are we just travellers in timeThe ancient stones of time they call us To hear their mystic prophecies They've stood in silence they're immortal Forgotten page of historyThese, these are the days These, these are the times Are we just travellers in time Are we just travellers in timeThe crystal powers they will take you Far across the sands of time Searching ever for an answer What's the future of mankindThese, these are the days These, these are the times Are we just travellers in time Are we just travellers in timeAre we just travellers in time Are we just travellers in time In time, time, time, time, time
