

But No One Cares at All

The Glass Child

Verse

I can hear them talking, but no one knows my name
They tell me what I'm lacking, says I should chase their fame

But I don't care at all

I don't mind my faultsThe roads I walk are cracking

I rest where I can lay

I paid my dues by busking

I'm always on my way

Just tell me where to go

Tell me where to goPre-Chorus

They keep running and I keep crumbling down down down all the things I thought I wanted they mean nothing, it means nothing at all now

If I had it all, I don't think that I would care at allCHORUS

Backs keep turning

I keep running my one man band

and I've been singing to this world with no one listening and I never wanted more than that

So if you take me to the start

I would never sell my heart

I would trail up my own way

I would spit on their parade

and I will go

until there's no place to goVerse

'Cause I can hear them singing with no piece of heart at all

The crowd gets what they paid for but I always wanted more

I always wanted more

I still want it allAnd I don't even care that they'll never know my name

I can hear them talking, talking about the fame

but I don't care at all

I don't mind my faultsCHORUS

Backs keep turning

and I've been singing to this world with no one listening

and I never wanted more than that

So if you take me to the start,

I would never sell my heart

I would trail up my own way

I would spit on their parade

until there's no place to go
