

Colder

Charon

Come along with the whispering cold and fall
They left you nothing more to seek from here.
So roll the feast in flames unforgettable
Take a bow to the end, reload your remorse
Every line is a thorn bite through your eyes
Still remains the everlasting hope for a bitter war.
If it has made you colder turning your life for justice
They have learned to obey.
Broken the rules I followed,
burning for name so hollow
I will learn to obey.
If it has made you colder
They have learned to obey.
Broken the rules I followed
I will learn to obey.
