Pressure

Until The Ribbon Breaks

I've been knee deep in trouble
Tryina stay afloat, pressure, pressure
Noose 'round the throat
Quick storm comin', you better stay indoors
Secrets, secrets, buried in the floor
Oh baby what's you doing like, stretching I get Pressure, pressure, a noose round my neck
Send me down the rope, I start to see
Trouble now coming, coming for meMaybe in another life, if we get another life
Maybe in that life, I could learn, to love you
Maybe in another time, if there is another time
Maybe in that time, I could learn, to love youThere's a riot in the town, a wolf at the door
Pressure, pressure, poison at the core
Quick storm coming, god save the queen
Wake up from your dreams
There's a riot in the town, smoke in your lungs=
Pressure, pressure, blocking out the sun
Send me down the rope, I start to see
Trouble now coming, coming for meMaybe in another life, if we get another life
Maybe in that life, I could learn, to love you
Maybe in another time, if there is another time
Maybe in that time, I could learn, to love youMy life flash before my eyes
It's like I see it in a dream
I died to darkness and got swallowed and devoured
By a big white light, it smothered me
Staring at my face while they covered me
My soul left my body, now I'm hovering, over me
Thinking bout my wrongs, my rights,
My ups, my downs, my left, my right
Decisions that I made, the games I played
Wish I could played them twice
An angel came, took me by my hand to the interrogation
Placed me on the scale, where they weigh your soul for hell
Suddenly I fell, rapidly
The heat of fire, smellin' brimstone
The demons and surrounding, molten lava
Ghouls and goblins, waiting for my soul to drop
But the moment I was espoused to hit the ground, is when I got up
Damn, bad dreamMaybe in another life, if we get another life

Maybe in that life, I could love, to love you
Maybe in another time, if there is another time
Maybe in that time, I could learn, to love you.
