

If You Live

Mose Allison

If you live your time will come
I say if you live your time will come
So child don't mess with that cotton sack
It will scratch your knees and bend your back And if you live your time will come
If you live your day will come
If you live your day will come
So child don't play with those pots an' pans The will soon enough ruin your pretty hands
And if you live your time will come
If you live a day will come
If you live a day will come When the sun will shine
And the crops will grow
And you think you're not gonna worry no more
But if you live, your time will come
