

Sunrise Over a Sea of Blood

Mortal Treason

Silent and still she lies and waits
Twined with darkness
The morning fog her companion
A violent force she holds tight within her fist

Her task has been assigned
Her mission is her reason of being
Death
Each day her heart beats faster
Her horse saddled and ready to ride
With her she brings death

Never has the world seen such fear as their dreams of tomorrow shatter before them
Oh the cries of suffering and of anger
No mind can comprehend as death falls like a whisper or a drop of blood
The billions of souls screaming as they're forced to escape the bodies
These lifeless bodies

And on this day, the earth shall be washed with tears, and they will fall as rain unto the heavens
So the time draws near
She is counting down
She is ready
She is the end
She is new life
Death awaits
Will we embrace her or will we run, for she is swift
Not one will escape her
Not even one
