

I Understand

Splashdown

Please could you stop this feeling like you're misunderstood
I know that what you've done you've done the best that you could I Understand
I Understand
You're not alone
It's not what you've planned
I Understand
You're not alone You've backed yourself into a corner of yourself
Another reason not to listen to everyone else I Understand
I Understand
You're not alone
It's not what you've planned
I Understand
You're not alone On either side you'll find a door to be opened
And one will have to close
There's no way out but through
I've been there before
Don't please everyone -- just you I Understand
I Understand
You're not alone
It's not what you've planned
I Understand
You're not alone
