Once Again

Pale Forest

Lies!" claimed the liar when truth had widened every eye History re-written once the false was told "goodbye!"Alone, the once proud shape now stands in the shadows of regret Onto his trembling hands tears are flowing, fate is setLost in the hole she had designed for someone else to fall into Swallowed by the images of a consciousness deniedThe old colossal birds conscious of their might Soaring to the sky
aware of every lie
