

Useless

Cavo

Open your eyes to a brighter way of dreaming
Relaxed in moments you kept locked inside
Hold me now as day turns in to evening
Here comes the night

All the words and all the lies
I need to find a safer place to hide
And it feels useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you

Yours are the smiles that make this world worth keeping
Only the ones remember fade in time

All the words and all the lies
I need to find a safer place to hide
And it feels useless
And it feels oh it feels brand new
And it feels my god it feels so useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you

All the word and all the lies
I need to find safer places to hide
And it feels useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you

And it feels useless
And feels oh it feels brand new
And it feels my god you feel so useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes you, you, you
