Save Me Hollywood

It was the year of '92
And I ask what would become of you
You looked for love in all the wrong places
Never a doubt was in my mind
Your soul wasn't worth a dime
You sought faith in all familiar facesOh, it's not a movie
Oh, it's not a love song
This is the road you've been travelling onYou shine alone in the headlights
You live your days in your broken dreams
You die and wake up as somebody else the more the meaning
Oh, you pray for another ending
Anything else from what you have seen
You toss and turn in an unconscious state where life is passingYou hold a smile to hide the pain
And they know cause they would do the same
And if you should take a bow
His worlds your stage (but)
Will he be there to save you
Make a move and say that he will never leave?You shine alone in the headlights
You live your days in your broken dreams
You die and wake up as somebody else the more the meaning
Oh, you pray for another ending
Anything else from what you have seen
You toss and turn in an unconscious state where life is passingOh, tell me something true
It's coming back to you
The words and whispers last
This will go by fast, will go by fast
Oh, tell me something true
It's coming back to you
The words and whispers last
This will go by fast, will go by fastYou shine alone in the headlights
You live your days in your broken dreams
You die and wake up as somebody else the more the meaning
Oh, you pray for another ending
Anything else from what you have seen
You toss and turn in an unconscious state where life is passing
