

Half Full Glass Of Wine

Tame Impala

Said you wouldn't be home late tonight
I gave up waiting at seventeen past midnight
Now my only company's a half full glass of wine
Leave me no choice but to plot my revenge
You leave me no choice but to plot my revenge
It's been so long
Since I've held your hand
You don't know how hard it can be
Thank God that I've been blessed with a patient mind
Cause' what I want to happen won't happen in a very long time
Now my only company's a half full glass of wine
Leave me no choice but to plot my revenge
It's been so long
Since I've held your hand
You don't know how hard it can be
You don't know how hard it can be
