

vestige

T.M.Revolution

Washed on a shore enchanted lies and I am breathless
Struggling for reason
How could it be such a wondrous place is trapped in silence
Give them redemption
Time is melting away, I can't explain but my eyes are begging to stay
I must say a sunny day helps to push the memories away
I can't imagine my leaving here...
It sounds so peaceful...living in solace.
A perfect vision of ecstasy, a dreamy palace

Home to the soulless..
Time is melting away, I can't explain but my eyes are begging to stay
I must say a sunny day helps to push the memories away
Walk along the shore of an ocean of rage..
Gazing in amazement at each screaming wave
Everywhere I look there's agony and pain..
What's the point of fighting when there's nothing to save?
Time is melting away, I can't explain but my eyes are begging to stay
I must say a sunny day helps to push the memories away
Caution must be obeyed on an island of decayed..

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>