

We Are the Same

Jonny Lang

We are all waking up from a long dream.
And though we drink the same cup some of us still thirsty. Show your heart, a show of hands If ever had a story you couldn't tell We'll you're not alone (well you're not alone, we'll you're not alone)
It fell apart sing and sing
Life is hard I understand,
I got one of my own (I got one of my own, I got one of my own)
Yeah, read a book it blew mine
I guess I didn't see what was between the lines (what was between the lines) or where the story (or where the story was) Yeah, from my heart I lost my way only thing we stood for like every day It ain't holding up (it ain't hold up, it ain't holding up) So now then we settle down there's no fight left in us we just got to give it up cause we have the perfect love Yeah, just got to give it up cause we have the perfect love The world keeps spinning around another sun goes down
and still we're sleeping in this bed we made But tonight I dream again and in a dream I see in you no shame, we are the same Lost your job times are tight Trying to hold it down do us right Heavy on your mind
yeah, got into trouble took a drink Trying to wash away the same stain
Just a cup of wine (just a cup of wine)
I remember a day when were young always heard a change was gonna come (I wondered) Is it too late (is it too late) we're all hard on what we believe in even though we keep reaching thicker skin But there's a better a way why don't we just lay the weapons down, never should have picked them up look who's the big man now don't need to act so tough We've got the perfect love

We've got the perfect love

We've got the perfect love Oh, the world

The world is spinning round (spinning around)

the sun goes down

tonight I dream again

and in my dream I see in you, no shame,

We are the same

And as we turn the tide

and learn to live with no disguise, no pain only love remains

at last the sun will rise

and we'll walk in the light as one some day

We are

oh we are We are all waking up

To a life that we've never seen

From the dust rising up we'll finally see the

The sun Oh, the world

The world is spinning round (spinning around)

and still we're sleeping in this bed we made (and still sleeping in this bed we made)

tonight I dream again (oh tonight I dream again)

And in my dream I see in you, no shame,

We are the same

And learn to live with no disguise (live with no disguise)

No pain only love remains (no pain, only love, only love)

Oh we are

Oh we are the same
