

Drift Away

The Expendables

How can I comprehend the consequences of my decision

It's so frustrating

Why can't my life reflect upon my envision

My concentrations failing

People say it's time to stop pretending

The answers will come my way

Time can only heal wounds that need mending

That's just the price that we pay

Watch me swim away

From this place that I don't know anymore

Watch me drift away

From this place that was my shore

Watch me swim away

From this place that I don't know anymore

Watch me drift away

From this place that was my shore

Watch me drift away

Watch me drift awayyy

How many time have I told myself to stay away

Countless numbers

How many times should I have left when she told me to stay

I can't even remember

If I could easily escape this situation

You know that I would

If I could easily control my hesitation

If I only could

Watch me swim away

From this place that I don't know anymore

Watch me drift away

From this place that was my shore

Watch me swim away

From this place that I don't know anymore

Watch me drift away

Watch me drift away

Watch me drift awayyy

Watch me swim away
From this place that I don't know anymore
Watch me drift away
From this place that was my shore

Watch me swim away
From this place that I don't know anymore
Watch me drift away
Watch me drift away
Watch me drift awayyy

---

Lyrics submitted by David Harms.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>