Of All We've Known

Just Surrender

It's nine oclock and its getting dark
And I cant see the road
I flash my headlights into the dark night
I swear well make it on our ownWe're older than we used to be
This town holds no more to see
Were fading in, were fading out
Until I hear you sayCome on, come on, hey kid
This is far too important
For you to understand
She says be a manYou know this is
What we both wanted
Its time for us to let go
Of all weve knownIts one a.m. and were alone again
I reach out for the sky
My mind keeps playing all the words youre saying
Im always wrong when you are rightWe're older than we used to be
This town holds no more to see
Were fading in, were fading out
Until I hear you sayCome on, come on, hey kid
This is far too important
For you to understand
She says be a manYou know this is
What we both wanted
Its time for us to let go
Of all weve knownCome on, come on, hey kid
This is far too important
For you to understand
She says be a manYou know this is
What we both wanted
Its time for us to let go
Of all weve knownOf all weve known
Of all weve knownOf all weve known
(Hey kid, this is far too important)
Of all weve known
(For you to understand)
She says be a man
