Not Enough

Milo Greene

Shutting me out
You keep shutting me out
And you leave with no cloud
I'm sorry
It's honesty, honestly
And it's hard for meLocking me down, I'm a penalty now
At the strength of your doubt, along with It's only, it's hardly
It's hard on meIt's not enough
It's just so hard to leave you
Not enough
It's just so hard to leave you
Not enough, not enough
It's just so hard
It's just so hardHolding me now and the lips with your mouth
It's the shape that I've found so haunted
You're wanting me to believe
And that's hard for meIt's not enough
It's just so hard to leave you
Not enough
It's just so hard to leave you
Not enough, not enough
It's just so hard
It's just so hardBaby, we can turn around and turn the red sea blue
Maybe you could take your things on your way out
Maybe I believe in something truly better than this
I've been good to you, but that's not enough
I've been good to you, but that's not enough
I've been good to you
I've been good to you
But I lost your will, you're stranger to me now
You can't leave what we've started
You can't leave what we've started
It's just so, it's just so hard to leave youIt's not enough
It's just so hard to leave you
Not enough
It's just so hard to leave you
Not enough, not enough

It's just so hard
It's just so hard
