

All You Sons and Daughters

Matthew Good

Netted dolphin in the deep little coyote, shame on me new horizon, no memory didn't know it then but I want to know it now it's time to get up rub your eyes and set off into the sun you know we don't get enough around here All you sons and daughters gotta hide yourselves away before they burn it out of you, hide yourselves away gotta hide yourselves away Used to call me late at night parked in your car trying to hide from one disaster to one in line didn't know it then, shouldn't have to know it now it's time to wake up
rub your eyes and set off into the sun
you know we don't get enough around here
All you sons and daughters gotta hide yourselves away
before they burn it out of you, hide yourselves away
gotta hide yourselves away

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>