Loved and Lost

Chester See

I fought with love and I called her bluff but soon I was facing my biggest fear cause I walked away when I should have stayed looked back, but she disappearedScreaming out what did I do When old memories make it harder to breath cause you know, just what you've lost and you can't fall asleep cause she's there in your dreams but you can't get her out of your thoughts when she's on repeat in your head wishing you could take back things you said you've loved and lostShe comes on by with a guy by her side so you say that you're happy for her but those eyes that you've missed are directed at his you try not to show that you're hurt but sometimes love just gets awayWhen old memories make it harder to breath
you've loved and lostAnd I'll turn around and leave gracefully but I'll never stop wishing you'd come back to meWhen old memories make it harder to breath
you've loved and lostYou've loved and lost
