

Absent Minded

Enchiridion

Follow me,
be honestly
you were moaning in your dreams!Grab my hand I'll set you free to a place where paradise dwells!Be absent with me your mind feels free forgive them their bad deeds forget your sorrow and your grief and come in endless light with meFollow me
be honestly
you were moaning in your dreams!Grab my hand I'll set you free from this ongoing insanity!The things they've promised you those empty words they've spoken you've always had to suffer they're just unstable to bear the pain.You've always beard their frustration You've always had to fear.
You've always beard their hatred in their name you suffered from the pain!Take me away, take me so far away to escape reality!
Just fix this broken pieces they caused inside their burden will be left behindFollow me be carelessly
I'll betray you in your dreams!Grab my hand I'll set you free
you're not able to face reality!
